Appeals relating to access arrangements and special consideration

Access arrangements and special consideration decisions are based on an inter-awarding body agreement, set out in the JCQ publication Access Arrangements and Reasonable Adjustments and A guide to the special consideration process

<https://www.icq.org.uk/exams-office/Access-Arrangements-and-Special-Consideration>

After consulting the relevant documents, the Head of Centre may appeal on the behalf of a candidate or group of candidates.

The appeal should be either a written request or on the JCQ App1 form. This must clearly state the grounds for appeal and include any relevant evidence to support the appeal.

Before appealing, it may help if the Head of Centre discusses the situation with the awarding body's appeals officer, sometimes this resolves the matter without going to appeal.

The preliminary appeal must be made within 14 calendar days of receiving the original decision letter.

The appeal follows the layout of the preliminary appeal.

Once completed a report detailing the awarding body's decision will be sent to the Head of Centre. If the Head of Centre is still dissatisfied an Appeal hearing can be requested. This should be done either in writing or on the JCQ App1 form, within 14 calendar days of receipt of the preliminary appeal report.

The decision of the Appeal hearing panel regarding access arrangements will be final.
